

Couples shower invitation that speaks volumes

The couples shower is similar to the baby shower and the wedding showers except the guests are both males and females. In the usual or traditional wedding shower, the guests are the female friends of the bride. The maid of honor or the best friend of the bride is usually the one who gives out the party. The party is usually held at a designated place or at someones house. There are also the more elaborate ones, such as theme inspired bridal showers. Now for the invitation, they generally complement the party. The invitation is 60s designed or inspired if for instance the party is a 60s theme party.

Now the traditional bridal shower has evolved with the changing family structure and the evolving role of the men and women in the society. Thus we have now the couples shower. Now the couples shower as part of the wedding event is becoming the norm. More couples are now having couples shower party instead even though we still see the traditional shower occasionally. Also, the responsibilities and the role in the family is now being shared by the couples. The usual gifts for the bridal shower are no longer really just for the women.

Now since the couples shower is for both the female and the male, the themes are also different from the traditional bridal shower. For instance, it is no longer quite appropriate to give out lingerie theme bridal shower. The male and the female guests would then be uncomfortable with this party. Therefore choosing the theme that is right for both the sexes is important. The host must also consider the games when choosing the theme. Then if the party will be something like a night out in the town, then one must also consider the right places for such event.

Of course the invitation should be applicable for both the female and the male also. Even though the male are invited they might feel out of place if the invitation is a traditional bridal shower invitation. At the same time, it is important to make sure that the groom is given the same attention as the bride. As for the party, it should be interesting to the males and the groom as well. The invitation of course is the first thing that can make them be interested with the party. The right couples shower invitation for the couples should be the ones used by the host. The couples shower invitation should therefore be something that will pique the interest of the males not just the females. Related information Wedding vows | Wedding poems |
